Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Our staff conducted a search for materials pertaining to the Fecteau-Downey case, but was unable to find documentation of a government decision to handle Fecteau and Downey separately from [Redacted]. This search was conducted by using finding aids to our collections; those folders bearing likely titles were then examined item-by-item. I should mention that it is possible that item-by-item searches in folders bearing general titles (for example, chronological files) might uncover the documentation you are seeking. However, staff limitations preclude our performing such extensive reference service.

If we can be of further assistance, please let us know.

Sincerely,

JOHN E. WICKMAN, Director
Dwight D. Eisenhower Library
